EmployerGuard

Retained HR Support Service

Unlimited HR and Employment Law e-mail & telephone support from our experienced consultants, for a fixed monthly fee

In a business landscape already beset with risks for employers from ever changing legislation, a growing compensation culture and the scrapping of Tribunal Fees, Covid-19 has added a legacy of new challenges and threats.

Our competitive and flexible EmployerGuard service provides expert HR and Employment Law advice, support and guidance from our team of consultants who hold a wealth of practical, hands-on experience. We'll confidently guide you through those prickly HR and employee issues and, if required, take control on your behalf; including on-site at your own premises if needed.

We have an enviable reputation for resolving issues quickly, effectively and always with the utmost professionalism. Our aim is to help you be a successful employer, keeping you within the boundaries of Employment Law and Best Practice Guidelines.

We're a first point of contact for our clients when employee trouble strikes, but we're also here to help with the positive side of people management, including staff development, appraisals and organisational planning.

What our customers say

"We chose to work with Cathy because her company's approach is pragmatic, timely and firmly rooted in commercial sense. HR Champions have proven to be exactly what we needed. Cathy and the team are quick and thorough at answering our queries, counselling us to take the right decisions and underpinning their service with a range of toolkits and documentation."
